Wayne McGregor | Random Dance
Teachers' workshop: Mind and Movement

Delivered by Jasmine Wilson, Director of Creative Learning for Wayne McGregor | Random Dance, this workshop for dance teachers and professionals will explore the 'choreographic thinking tools' used by McGregor in the studio and developed through a decade of research with cognitive scientists.

- a dynamic warm up
- a practical exploration of the 'Mind and Movement' choreographic thinking tools resource
- working through the lesson plans
- using and understanding the choreographic thinking tools
- looking at how each lesson and its component tasks relate to school contexts
