

Richard Alston Dance Company – workshop and performance offer

Richard Alston Dance Company is performing at the Northcott Theatre, Exeter on the 24th and 25th March 2015. We are offering a bespoke workshop and performance package to schools and dance groups in the local area.

Your £370 (£18.50 per head) package includes:

- A three hour Essential Alston workshop for up to 20 students
- 20 tickets (plus 2 teachers' tickets) to see a performance on either of the dates above
- A DVD lecture demonstration filmed at Sadler's Wells with footage from Overdrive and Movements from Petrushka with accompanying resource pack

Repertoire on tour 2015

In a Sadler's Wells commission, Nomadic, Alston revisits the musical genre of his hugely popular Gypsy Mixture - this time though, the music is darker, sharper, from Ursari Gypsy band Shukar Collective. To explore the interaction between gypsy music and urban sound.

Martin Lawrance, Rehearsal Director for the Company will be showing his recently new work Burning which has whipped up audiences and critics into a dance frenzy. Set to the passionately intense Dante Sonata composed by Franz Liszt and performed live.

Overdrive is back. Alston's created this fast paced piece in response to the excitement and energy of pure rhythm. The score was composed by Terry Riley with layers of complex music that is reflected in this exhilarating and challenging work. Very popular with teachers delivering GCSE and A Level dance.

Would you like more?

We have created several resources supporting our teachers delivering Overdrive as part of the dance curriculum. You can order your copy of Overdrive DVD and detailed teachers resource pack now. We are also offering groups we work with £12 per t-shirt with free p&p ready to wear for your workshop!

For further information, to book a workshop or place an order please contact katie.vernon-smith@theplace.org.uk 020 7121 1019

www.richardalstondance.com/www.thealstonstudio.com